

Advanced Seed Pty Ltd

Formed in 2000, Advanced Seed has quickly grown to become one of Australia's leading importers and providers of turf grass seed and related products for commercial and retail markets. The company prides itself on importing only the finest quality product from around the world, with particular emphasis on those products suited for Australian conditions. Its seeds are used by most of the leading racecourses, golf courses, turf farms, local governments and sporting facilities throughout Australia.

A division of the Brandlink Group, Advanced Seed is a wholesale supplier which operates through a network of specialised distributors located throughout Australia.

The Business Issue

Five years into its operations Advanced Seeds' accounting system began to struggle. Customisations to the software were extending the systems life but they were still only fixing it temporarily. The company became aware that a new solution would soon be necessary. Brian Hinman, Advanced Seed's Managing Director explained, "This [software] worked well until more growth and a further acquisition demanded a larger system capable of servicing the increasing accounts complexity and the developing demand for QC, batch tracking and stock control."

Advanced Seed's next step was to undertake a detailed assessment of requirements and alternatives. At the end of this process, JIWA Financial Software was chosen and implemented in late 2005.

The Solution

JIWA has provided Advanced Seed with a business management system that combines monitoring, tracking and customer accounting. Used to precisely monitor the company's seed blending and batch management, JIWA makes it possible to provide customers with an assurance of germination rate yield percentage for each mix, and the ability to track every ingredient in a mix, right through wholesale and retail on-sellers.

The Result

Having proven its ability to meet all current accounting requirements, Advanced Seed management is confident that JIWA will continue to prove its value well into the future.

"The new Advanced Seed inventory management and accounting system has many more capabilities for us yet to use," Hinman commented. "The next challenge is to activate the landed cost of our imported raw materials. This will not only eliminate a time-consuming and tedious task, currently done with spreadsheets, but will also deliver precise costing information on every shipment. In addition, we will be able to include currency shifts as well as all on-costs and overheads such as freight, insurance, cost of finance etc."
